

The Landscape Nerd: Art Walk

This is most of the information I used- I do my best to account for all of the resources I come across or have incorporated into the episode. If there is more information that you would like to see added to this list- Let me know and email me thelandscape nerd@gmail.com.

In this episode, we are speaking with Melissa Pompili about her research in creating a public art walking tour for University Circle in Cleveland Ohio. We discuss the motivations to create something that the public can use and how to have fun doing it. Also, we discuss how quickly public art information can disappear and where to look for it!
