

The Landscape Nerd: Aquatic Ecology and Landscape Episode Resources

Today's resources were provided by Zach! If there is more information that you would like to see added to this list- Let me know and email me thelandscape nerd@gmail.com.

Links between the terrestrial and aquatic landscapes:

Tangled webs article that has a great diagram by Baxter et al.

Riverwebs documentary (unsure where to find full length but here is the main website and an article about Dr. Nakano's legacy)

Salmon forest diagram and documentary (found full 30-minute doc)

Microplastics:

I attached the article and visual abstract I co-authored on relating to microplastics. The artist Maya Stahl can be seen on twitter and IG. Dr. Michael Bogan, who is also on the paper, has collaborated with another artist in the past for an exhibit piece at the University of Arizona Museum of Art, it was a part of the 6&6 project. The other artists and scientists along with Dr. Bogan wrote up an article as well about the project.

Another interesting microplastics article about caddisflies incorporating microplastics into their cases.

Humans and the landscape:

LA River Plan displacing houseless people article

So you want to acknowledge the land article

Cultural Burning video
